

MLG-50[®] FULVIC MINERAL POWDER CONCENTRATE

MLG-50[®] is a finely milled, 100% soluble, concentrated fulvic mineral powder that delivers essential micronutrients for optimal health. It surpasses other sources like shilajit with a fulvic acid content of over 35% (verified by the LAMAR method). MLG-50[®] boasts an impressive micronutrient profile, containing over 70 trace minerals, 14+ amino acids, 13+ organic acids, and a potent blend of antioxidants and polyphenols. This comprehensive spectrum of micronutrients works synergistically to support various aspects of health, from digestion and immunity to energy production and cognitive function.

Along with its nutrient density, MLG-50[®] Fulvic Mineral Powder boasts an impressive antioxidant profile, which can help combat oxidative stress and inflammation. MLG-50[®] has a neutral pH and a pleasant smoky flavor and aroma, making it incredibly versatile. It can be easily incorporated into capsules, tablets, functional foods, cosmetic formulations, and more. The recommended daily dose is just 100 mg, providing a convenient and efficient way to supercharge your customers' health and vitality.

1: The LAMAR method is the ISO Standard
2: Blueberries have an antioxidant capacity of 7.43 mM TEAC/kg, whereas MLG-50 has 1400 mM TEAC/kg.
